

Panerai white with date and power reserve

Does Panerai have a new Luminor GMT power reserve Ceramica?

Panerai moves quickly! After a busy Watches and Wonders 2025, there's already another new release. The Luminor GMT Power Reserve Ceramica was announced with the brand's official timekeeping role at the Salone del Mobile. This is Milan's Design Week, and the event is the world's largest furniture show.

What is the water resistance of Panerai Luminor GMT power reserve pam01574?

Water resistance is rated at 30 BAR (approximately 300 metres), making it suitable for various aquatic activities. The Luminor GMT Power Reserve Ceramica PAM01574 encapsulates Panerai's legacy of melding Italian design elegance with Swiss watchmaking precision.

What is a Panerai pam01574?

Here, Panerai adds a layer of Super-LumiNova below the blue dial, and it shines through stencil-like cutouts. Because this is a complicated watch, the sandwich dial has more detail, such as an indicator for the 72-hour power reserve. Other details include an arrow-tipped GMT hand. The Ceramica PAM01574 uses the in-house P.9012 automatic caliber.

Why does Panerai have a sandwich dial?

Part of the reason is its dark blue sunray sandwich dial. Here, Panerai adds a layer of Super-LumiNova below the blue dial, and it shines through stencil-like cutouts. Because this is a complicated watch, the sandwich dial has more detail, such as an indicator for the 72-hour power reserve. Other details include an arrow-tipped GMT hand.
